Report of the Mayor

To the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I submit the following report for the year 1918 for your consideration.

My report for 1917 showed the largest reduction in the bonded debt of any year since the city government went into effect, a reduction of $72,434.40. I am pleased to report that by the purchase of $25,000.00 water bonds, the payment of $2,000.00 school bonds, and the appropriation to and earnings of the sinking fund, the bonded debt has been reduced $48,208.62 in 1918, making the net bonded debt, including $72,000.00 water bonds, $232,036.37. There is no outstanding temporary indebtedness, and there is $13,168.74 cash on hand, exclusive of the cash in the water, street and school departments, against $9,876.71 January 1st, 1917.

The debt reduction for the years 1917 and 1918 is made up as follows:

	1917	1918
Water bonds due in 1924, paid from water funds	$50,000 00	$25,000 00
School bonds Nos. 573 and 574, paid from general fund	2,000 00
School bonds Nos. 575 and 576 paid from general fund		2,000 00
Sinking fund appropriation, from general fund	8,000 00	8,000 00
Net earnings of sinking fund	12,434 40	13,208 62
	<hr/>	<hr/>
	$72,434 40	$48,208 62
Total debt reduction, 1917 and 1918		$120,643 02

I called attention in my report for 1917 to the small bonded indebtedness of this city for a city of its size. Taking into consideration the very material reduction in 1918, I feel that the tax payers may well congratulate themselves on the city's financial condition. It is also a satisfaction to me to know that notwithstanding the marked increase in the cost of materials and labor during the past two years, the tax rate for city purposes has not been increased; that excepting the war tax of 20 per cent. imposed by the state, the rate remains the same as before the country entered the great war.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

The Department of Public Works, although laboring under many disadvantages, has accomplished much good work during the past year as shown in the report of the Commissioner. To this report and the recommendations therein I wish to add the following:

There is a nation wide demand for good roads and a wide diversity of opinion as to the conditions, materials and methods necessary to obtain the same. The building of permanent roads is a science which is, to my mind, only in its infancy. Until more fully developed, it will be necessary to follow what seems to be the plan that will give the best results for the money expended.

Rutland seems to be peculiarly situated with respect to obtaining good road material. An analysis of stone taken from deposits in this locality shows the presence of more or less lime, marble and other soft substances, the stone not being of sufficient strength to insure a surface that will stand the strain of the ever increasing automobile traffic. We must, then, turn elsewhere for proper surface material. To obtain this and to properly increase the area of permanent roadway we must have a larger appropriation for street purposes. I believe that eventually the main arteries or state roads in every city and town in the state will be taken care of by Federal and State appropriations, but until this is done, thereby releasing funds to take care of the less important streets in the city, it will be necessary to have more money for street work or benefit certain sections of the city at the expense of other sections.

I find from studying the methods adopted in different cities for raising money for permanent road building, that the issuing of bonds for this purpose seems to be the method most favored. I am given to understand that the system of issuing bonds of small denominations—of $50.00 and upwards—maturing in ten years and paying a fair rate of interest, has proved very satisfactory. However, there is no desire on my part to advocate this or any other plan at this time, but merely to give you the benefit of the little knowledge I have gained of so-called street financeering.

I would suggest that as early as possible a meeting of representative men from our business and industrial life be called to make a thorough investigation of this question in all its phases and report their findings to the citizens, to the end that we may enjoy a better system of highways.

An efficient "patrol system" is absolutely necessary in order that our present highways be maintained in at least a passable condition. Failure to continue this new departure which was started during the early summer was due to the loss of motors at crusher, scarcity of labor, etc.

The Mack truck purchased in 1911 is practically worn out and during the past two years has been continually undergoing repairs. I would recommend the purchase of a modern truck to replace it. Another good investment for the city to make would be the purchase of a combination sprinkler and flusher to take the place of the sprinkler now in use, which is owned by private parties and rented by the Street Department.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

I am heartily in accord with the recommendations of the Commissioner of Public Safety as to the Police and Fire Departments.

The absolute necessity for a motor fire truck to replace the horse drawn truck at Station No. 2 is becoming more apparent daily and I would recommend that one be purchased.

The officials of both departments are deserving of special mention for the efficient manner in which they have performed their duties.

DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS

This department is under the direct charge of Overseer John J. Hickey, who has, with the assistance of Mrs. Hickey, given every consideration to deserving cases.

The buildings at the City Farm are in a fair state of repair but are old and require more or less repair work every year. Any recommendations by the Overseer as to improvements at the Farm are worthy of consideration.

MEMORIAL HALL

This building is in a poor state of repair and will require some expenditure of money during the present year. The entire building, as has been recommended in previous reports, should be given over for library purposes. The basement now used by the Library Association is entirely inadequate to meet the every day demands of its patrons.

The Association is deserving of a larger appropriation from our citizens to insure the high standard of public service that has always been maintained.

RECOGNITION OF SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

As an expression of our appreciation for the loyal, patriotic service of the brave men, living and dead, who have helped win the world war, I would suggest that a committee be appointed to prepare a program for welcoming our boys upon their return and to arrange for the presentation to them individually, or as a body, of some personal acknowledgment of our debt of gratitude.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion I desire to express my appreciation to all who have been associated with me during the past year; their hearty co-operation has aided in making possible the City's excellent progress.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY C. BRISLIN,
Mayor.

Commissioners of Sinking Fund.

Report of the Commissioner of Public Works

To the Honorable City Council:—

Gentlemen:—The following is a report of the work done by this department during the year of 1918:—

In addition to the regular work of cleaning up streets, filling small holes and scraping, the streets were oiled, most of them twice, and the following tables will show the work done and the cost of same.

STREETS.

To say that war conditions have interfered with the work of this department is only stating a self-evident and very important fact. Labor has been very scarce, and, although not high when compared to the increased cost of everything else, yet it has been materially more than ever before in this section.

Consequently, practically everything which has been done during the past year has cost more than similar work in former years. Also, supplies of all kinds have been hard to obtain especially within a reasonable length of time. Consequently, unavoidable delays have been caused both in commencing and in the performing of some of the work of this department. In fact, toward the latter part of the season we were notified not to begin any construction work which was not especially sanctioned by a special United States Board appointed to see that not any except absolutely necessary work was started until after the close of the war.

MACADAM CONSTRUCTION.

We had resurfaced the stone roadways on Baxter, Church and Edson Streets and were resurfacing West Street from the Chaffee crossing westerly toward Center Rutland when, on July 16th, lightning struck the crusher plant, causing a fire which destroyed one of the buildings including two motors, two belts, the air compressor outfit, drill, etc. The insurance adjustment covered a large part of the actual damage to the plant, but in replacing the machinery the delay caused by the existing conditions, to which I have already referred, was considerably exasperating.

The breaking down of the old Mack truck once or twice also caused some inconvenience in pushing the macadam work. The light truck which was purchased at the beginning of the season for this department proved "a friend indeed."

After the crusher plant was crippled, we purchased a few cars of crushed stone from a New York State quarry and placed on the West Street roadway at a point nearly half way between the Chaffee crossing and the City line. Then from that stone westerly to the City limits was finished with a gravel surfacing.

The tables show the roadwork done during the year and the cost of same.

SEWERS.

The winter of 1917-1918 was so severe in this section that some of the shallow sewers froze and had to be relaid and repaired causing considerably more trouble and expense than during ordinary seasons. Sewer work was also handicapped by the slow delivery of material and shortage of labor. In fact the sewer at Pine Street Tunnel was not built on account of the prevailing war time conditions and limitations.

Construction work was also stopped in two instances because we were unable to obtain permits from land owners to construct the drains across their property.

WATER.

The cost of maintenance for the past year has been large, due to the severe winter of 1917-1918 and advance in price of material and labor.

The retaining dam for Mendon stream at intake valve was not constructed because of much very necessary work and scarcity of help when water in stream was low enough for work to be properly done. This dam should be built the coming summer. The Gleason Reservoir was cleaned at the time water was low in stream.

Several broken or worn out hydrants were replaced with new ones and one new hydrant set on Spruce street near Davis Foundry. Several localities in the city require more hydrants and they should be set as soon as possible. The large four way hydrant for south end of Baxter street was not set as the Commissioner of Public Works and City Engineer were unable to secure right of way for ten inch pipe line necessary to supply this hydrant. All material necessary to set this hydrant as planned by City Engineer is now in store house and in the yard and hydrant can be set as soon as right of way is secured. All hydrant branches that have not valves should be supplied as soon as possible. The twelve-inch main on East Street should have a valve at the corner of East Washington Street and one at the corner of Woodstock avenue, and the twelve-inch pipe line from Mendon reservoir should have two valves, set near location of valves in sixteen-inch pipe. A six-inch valve should be set at junction of Freight and Evelyn street on six-inch main going through Union Street thus making possible to shut off this main and not shut off Evelyn Street to Steamer pumping cistern at Depot Park.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT.

This department has been busy on street and sewer lines and grades, etc., of which the record figures and tables will be found in the reports of the other departments.

REMARKS.

In closing this report I wish to express my appreciation for, and thanks to the various city officials and employees for their cordial co-operation and labor with me for the benefit of the City during the past year.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK H. DUFFY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Report of Commissioner of Public Safety

To the Honorable City Council:—

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit the annual report of the Fire and Police Departments for the year 1918.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Fire Department is made up of the chief engineer, the first assistant engineer, the second assistant engineer, nine regular firemen and thirteen callmen, an exceedingly small department for a city the size and importance of Rutland.

The expense of maintaining the Department the past year was $13,928.81. An itemized account of the expenditures will be found in the list of orders paid by the City Treasurer.

During the year the Department has responded to 20 bell alarms, 76 still alarms, and 5 false alarms, a total of 101.

Our fire loss the past year, a list of which is appended, amounts to $21,530.75. This does not include the loss on the Thrall Block on Grove St., on the Dyer house on Pearl St., or the loss on the contents of the shirt factory owned by Tauber & Ryttenberg Co., as these losses have not yet been adjusted.

The fire at the shirt factory emphasized the need of a larger hydrant with steamer connections in the immediate vicinity of the Lincoln Iron Works, and I recommend that this be given immediate attention. I would also recommend the purchase of 500 feet of new hose.

The horses at Station No. 2 have seen their best days and are on the down grade, which again brings up the matter of replacing them with the more modern and efficient motor fire truck and, as a matter of economy as well as efficiency, I would earnestly recommend that you give this matter your careful attention.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

This department consists of one chief of police, one acting chief of police and six regular patrolmen, the same as in many years past, and a condition which many times has been called to the attention of the officials of the city and the voters. I refer to the absolute need of a larger department. An extra man is worked as a special officer on regular duty during the summer months when the automobile traffic is heavy and he also works during the vacation time of the regular officers. For the last few months he has been working on the late shift, giving one police officer on the street and one in the station at all hours of the night with four men on the street during the evening.

I wish to refer briefly to the death of Patrolman Bert A. Barrett, who died in the service of his country at one of the training camps in the south. He was a splendid officer and a good soldier and the department suffers a loss in his death. His name was carried with the other patrolmen but with his death there is a vacancy in the list of regular patrolmen and I recommend the appointment of Special Officer Thomas C. Cauty, who has been doing regular duty since the departure of Mr. Barrett.

During the year 1918 there have been 113 arrests, the smallest number of arrests since the city became a city and one of the lowest records since the department was organized. Of this number 85 were for intoxication and 28 for other offenses. There were four females detained during the year and the others were males.

The city has been particularly free from any serious crime and due to the efficiency of the officers burglaries have been practically eliminated.

There are no recommendations to be made at this time with the exception of the need of another regular patrolman and the time-worn recommendation of the need of a motor ambulance and police patrol wagon. This has been recommended for several years back and naturally the need is still present.

The expenses of the police department for the year 1918 were as follows:

Pay roll	$7,228 47
Commissioner's salary	100 00
Telephone and signal service	186 99
Repairing clocks, lines and batteries	208 37
Repairing coats	27 00
Clock dials	30 41
Sundry expenses	52 76
Total	$7,833 90

In conclusion I wish to refer to the extra work done by the police department during the last few months, caused by the conditions brought about by the war. Hundreds of requests, orders and enquiries have been received by the department during the war and all have been investigated and reports made in every instance, where such was required.

GEO. E. CHALMERS,
Commissioner of Public Safety.

Report of the City Attorney

To the Honorable City Council:—

Your City Attorney respectfully submits the following report for the year 1918:—

The City has been able to settle amicably all trouble and disputes arising during the past year without the intervention of the Courts. The case of the City of Rutland vs. Michael Rooney, which, since our last report has been taken before the Supreme Court on appeal, has now been settled by compromise and agreement between the parties, and a favorable disposition of the matter thus secured.

Your City Attorney has, as in the past, co-operated with the collector of taxes, effecting the collection of the past overdue taxes from delinquents, and has assisted your Overseer of the Poor in securing care and treatment for several unfortunates in the Brattleboro Retreat, to be cared for at the expense of the State of Vermont.

It has also been my privilege to advise various officials of the City, in matters pertaining to their official duties, and to render them such assistance as the occasion required.

There are at the present time no matters pending in Court, aside from a few minor collection suits, in which the City is interested.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN S. DORSEY,
City Attorney.

Report of Health Officer

To the President and Members of the Board of Health, Rutland, Vermont.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to present herewith the report of the transactions of the Health Department for the year ending December 31st, 1918.

MILK

Samples of milk from the different distributors were taken and sent to the State Laboratory for examination twice during the year; once in June and again in December.

Out of forty-nine samples sent, seventeen complied with all the requirements while the others were either low in fats and solids or contained visible dirt.

WATER

Daily Tap Samples sent to the State Laboratory for examination were reported upon as follows:

	Total number Samples collected	B. Coli Present	B. Coli Absent
January. No record for January. Assumed duties of Office			Feb. 2nd.
February	18	0	18 Days
March	25	0	25 Days

September	20	12 Days	8 Days
October	24	14 Days	10 Days
November	21	8 Days	13 Days
December	26	12 Days	5 Days

No report received as yet for last half of December.

Three special inspections of the territory bordering the main streams which supply the City Reservoir were made during the year. On one of these trips I was accompanied by the late Dr. Charles S. Caverly, then President of the State Board of Health, and on one of them by Dr. C. F. Dalton, Secretary of the State Board of Health and Prof. J. W. Votey, Engineer of the State Board of Health.

Several samples of water were taken from different places and examination of same showed only one instance in which there was evidence of sewage bacteria.

I was summoned to view six bodies during the year, and after careful examination issued certificates as follows:

Accidental—Struck by train	2
Natural causes due to age	1
Probably Valvular Disease of Heart	1
Acute Indigestion	1
Burned to Death	1

ELLEN B. CRAMTON, Treasurer.

I have examined the above accounts and find them correct as stated.

CORNELIA CHILDS PERKINS, Auditor.

Report of the President of the Board of School Commissioners

To His Honor, the Mayor, and the Citizens of Rutland:

For the second time I have the honor to tender you my report as President of the Board of School Commissioners. Conditions today are, happily, very different from those of a year ago. Our Country is at peace and this peace is a victorious one. Our soldiers are returning, and I hope the unusual conditions caused by the war will readjust themselves as speedily as possible. Our Schools have reason to be justly proud of the part they have taken in the so-called war enterprises. The subscriptions for Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps and Red Cross and United War Work made by the pupils of the public schools of Rutland, have shown that the boys and girls have been willing and glad to help in the cause of patriotism. Another $100 Liberty Bond has been placed in the hands of the School Board, in this instance to be devoted to the Polish Relief Fund. The Parent-Teacher Associations have been very active in garment work, and during the summer the High School has been used as a center for those interested in war work, including members of the Junior Red Cross. A knitting machine was installed and a course in first aid was conducted by Dr. Hodsdon. Miss Aitken, Matron of the Rutland City Hospital, also gave a course of lectures and demonstrations in domestic nursing. These courses were well attended and distinctly successful. Over $200 was turned over for this work from the proceeds of the Senior Play and the Baseball Fair.

FINANCE

I am pleased to state that the school finances are in admirable condition. This year our assets exceed our liabilities by $8,014.84 as against $2,483.74 in 1918, and the Board commences the present year with an unexpended balance of $3,810.84. We have asked for an appropriation for 1919, of 55 cents on the dollar on the Grand List. The citizens of Rutland, the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen have been most considerate of the School Board during the past two years and the extra 5 cents voted us has gone far toward saving the schools from an embarrassing financial situation.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Our school buildings are in fair condition considering the rigid economy in regard to repairs that has been exercised during the past year. The usual two per cent. for upkeep of school buildings has during the past year been cut in half. This had to be done in order to keep faith with the taxpayers. I do not think that the school plant has suffered materially and, with our finances in satisfactory condition, quite a good deal of repairing can very properly be done during the coming year. The School Board saw fit, at the commencement of the fall term, to close temporarily the School street and Gilrain Avenue buildings, thereby saving about $3,000 in fuel, teacher and janitor service and supplies. The teachers were assigned to other buildings and the pupils re-distributed. So far, this change has caused little complaint and unless there should be a very pronounced demand for re-opening these buildings, this action may be made permanent.

THE SCHOOLS

In spite of unsettled conditions due to the war and to the closing order made necessary by the epidemic of influenza in October our schools have maintained a high degree of excellence. When I hear the complaints from other towns and cities in the state, because of the difficulty encountered in obtaining teachers, I consider that Rutland has been particularly fortunate in having so few changes in the grade teaching force and in the High School faculty. The number of men teaching in our High School is especially gratifying to me and the system and harmony that now maintains among our High School teachers has made it possible for the School Board to comply with the request of the State Superintendent of Education, that Mr. Abbott be permitted to devote a portion of his time to the supervision of the Secondary Schools throughout the State. The State gains the services of an excellent teacher and organizer, while Rutland still retains his general oversight in High School affairs. The chief innovation in the curriculum of the High School for this year is the introduction of part time vocational work. Rutland is the third municipality in Vermont to avail itself of the provisions of the so-called Smith-Hughes Bill, and twenty-two boys are taking the course, which, aside from shop work, includes courses in History, English and Mechanical Drawing. So far the reports upon this course have been of a most encouraging nature. The department of Manual Training was reopened with the beginning of the winter term and is now being conducted for the benefit of the boys of the eighth and ninth grades. The Social and Athletic sides of school life have been properly emphasized and encouraged during the past year. The High School dances have been well patronized and the Senior Play was a great success from a dramatic as well as from a financial standpoint. In athletics the High School has been distinctly successful in each of the four major sports. That the educational, social and athletic advantages of our schools are recognized and sought after by the youth of the adjoining towns is, in my judgment, amply evidenced by the fact that in spite of unusual conditions, the sum of $3,332.50 was received for tuition during the past year. This very considerable sum represents tuitions from pupils in nineteen towns in Rutland, Addison, Windsor, Bennington and Windham Counties.

CONCLUSION

The deliberations of the Board during the past year have been most harmonious. The year has been a successful one and the Commissioners, Superintendent and Teachers have my most heartfelt thanks. And I am certain that their work has been fully appreciated by the citizens of Rutland. I regret the enforced absence of Mrs. Cramton from our meetings, and I extend my own and the Board's best wishes to Commissioner McCarthy in his work over-seas.

In conclusion I cannot refrain from reminding all connected with our public schools that we have an important role assigned us in connection with the social and economic readjustment that must, of necessity, follow the world conflict from which this country has but just emerged. Youths are returning to college and the boys to school who although young in years are old in experience. Our Country sent these young men to France to defend America and to make the world safe for peace. Many have felt the torture of hostile steel, many have suffered from disease, all have fought the great battle of liberty just as truly as did the heroes of the Revolution and the Civil War. Many have made the supreme sacrifice and never will return. But with them all, living or dead, we have made a solemn compact, a compact to do justice to them and to ourselves, to preserve to them the ideals and institutions for which they suffered, free from the taint of anarchy and lawlessness. God forbid that we should jeopardize all they have fought for by using the world's agonies for experiments in sociology or education. From the great beyond comes the warning of the dead:

"If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep."

And our public schools will play a large part in keeping or breaking that faith.

Respectfully,

HARVEY R. KINGSLEY,
President of the Board of School Commissioners.

CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS

During the summer vacation it became apparent that unless retrenchments were made somewhere in school expenses or unless the school receipts exceeded the estimates, the School Board would not be able to meet, without a deficit on December thirty-first, the advances already voted in salaries, the increased cost of fuel, text books and supplies, and the expense in making the usual repairs incident to keeping up the school plant. The School Board, seeing no possibility of increased school receipts, decided to restrict the purchase of school supplies, to limit repairs and to close the Gilrain Avenue and School Street Schools and assign the pupils of those schools to other buildings. The closing of these two buildings might be regarded as a "war measure" to reduce expenses; yet for several years past there have arisen serious doubts as to the advisability of continuing these schools. The Gilrain Avenue School is a rented one room building and the School Street Building is by far the poorest school structure in the city, considerably out of repair and defective in heating and ventilation. The decision of the Board to close these two buildings has aroused very little opposition and will result in a net saving to the city during a full school year of nearly $3,500 over the amount expended upon those schools two years ago. In view of the fact that these schools are located in sections of the city which largely patronize private schools, that the buildings are not in good repair, that the per capita cost of conducting up-to-date schools in either building would be high and that the pupils naturally attending those schools can be accommodated in other buildings with slight added expense, the wisdom of reopening either of these buildings for school purposes may be justly questioned.

FINANCES FOR 1918

The financial statement for the school year ending December 31st, 1918 made by the Finance Committee of the School Board and incorporated into the City Treasurer's report shows that the gross receipts for the support of the public schools in this city

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the Board of School Commissioners and City Council of the City of Rutland:

In accordance with the regulations of your Honorable Board, and the requirements of the City Charter, I herewith present my thirteenth annual report of the schools of this city.

The statistical tables and other data formerly published as a basis of comparison, also the reports of the Principal of the High School and of the heads of the special departments, have been prepared as usual but by special direction of the Board will not be published in the city reports. The plan adopted last year seemed to be satisfactory to the patrons of the schools and resulted in greatly reducing the expense of printing.

The school enrollment, membership and attendance during the natural school year ending June 30th last were slightly smaller than during the preceding year altho a high percentage of attendance was maintained. The enrollment and membership for the present school year shows an increase over that of last year and this increase will doubtless be augmented as the economic conditions of our country become normal. The attendance for the present school year has been seriously affected by the recent epidemic but to an extent no greater than generally thruout the state and country. On October first all the schools of the city were closed by order of the city and state health officials and remained closed for five and four-fifths weeks, seven days of which have been made up by Saturday sessions and by shortening the Christmas vacation. At the date of writing this report the membership and the attendance in the schools have become normal.

were $69,563.51. Of this amount $62,559.66 was realized from city taxes, $2,660.50 from the State, $3,332.50 from tuition, $608.35 from the sale of high school text books and the remainder $402.50 from incidentals, ground rent and unexpended balance of the previous year. The total expenditures were $65,752.67; of this amount $50,639.34 was paid for salaries, $908.89 for repairs on school buildings, $8,192.22 for fuel, light and power, $4,154.44 for text books and supplies, $945.98 for insurance on school property and $911.80 for rent, printing and advertising and sundries, leaving an unexpended balance in the Treasury of $3,810.84. An itemized statement of the assets and liabilities of the school department on December 31, 1918 filed with the City Treasurer showed that the assets which included cash balance in the Treasury, rebates from the State accrued but not due, fuel and supplies on hand aggregated $8,242.89, while the indebtedness aggregated $228.05 giving an excess in assets over liabilities of $8,014.84. A similar statement of the assets and liabilities on December 31, 1917 placed the assets over the liabilities at $2,483.74. This favorable financial showing was made possible by closing the Gilrain Avenue and School Street Buildings, by restricting the expense of text-books and supplies, by reducing the expense of repairs to less than one-fifth of the average for the preceding four years, by the closing of the schools for several weeks on account of the recent epidemic and by the extremely mild weather of the present season.

The favorable financial showing made above should not be interpreted as a permanent lowering of school expenses in this city, but rather as a result of unusual conditions which are not likely soon to recur. The expenditures last year were nearly twenty-five hundred dollars less than the average expenditures for the two preceding years notwithstanding higher salaries and greater cost in carrying on all kinds of business. The schools in this city cannot be conducted effectively the present year without larger expenditures. Only four-tenths of the recent increases in salaries were met in 1918; consequently those increases must be paid in 1919 on the basis of a full school year together with four-tenths of any additional increases. In view of the present purchasing value of the dollar further increases in salaries would seem just and in case of the High School it would seem imperative if its present efficient teaching force is to be retained. It is probable that at least four thousand dollars will be required this year to meet advances already made and to be made in salaries alone.

For the proper upkeep of the school plant an expenditure of at least $3,000 will be required in excess of the amount so expended last year, which would still be considerably less than the average expenditures for that purpose for the past four years.

With the return of peace and normal economic conditions we may look for the return to this city of many families that have been lured to larger industrial centers and many pupils who have left school for work will again return. Hence we may reasonably expect a considerable increase in the school attendance which may require the opening up next fall of one or more additional schools; there may also be a demand to reopen one or both of the school buildings recently closed. The Board would not be able to meet either of these demands without incurring considerable additional expense.

The report is current that the increase in the Grand List of the City, due to the Quadrennial Appraisal, would yield a school appropriation sufficient to take care of the increased expenditures. The report of the City Assessors, on file in the City Clerk's office, shows that the regular school tax of fifty cents upon the dollar of the new Grand List is likely to increase the school appropriation not more than $1,600, with the possibility of no increase at all. It would seem necessary, therefore, if the schools in this city are to be kept up to the present standard either to ask the city for an appropriation as large as that granted last year or to face a considerable deficit at the end of the present year.

The following table gives the tax rate for current school expenses for the years 1917 and 1918 and the percent to be asked for the present year, in the ten largest places in Vermont.

TEACHING FORCE AND SALARIES

Twenty-eight vacancies, more than half of which were in the High School, have occurred in our teaching force during the past twenty months. This is an unusual number of changes and considerable difficulty and expense were incurred in satisfactorily filling these positions. These changes were occasioned chiefly by the War, by sickness and by low salaries. During the present school year six grade teachers have been granted leave of absence, three on account of sickness and three to enter positions at more lucrative wages. While the salaries of all teachers and janitors were increased at the beginning of the present school year they are still low in comparison to the wages paid in other lines of work and to the high cost of living and do not bear a just proportion to the aggregate expenditures of the school department.

The demands upon teachers were never so great and exacting as at present and the purchasing value of the dollar has shrunk to that extent that the salaries today are relatively much lower than they were ten years ago. This matter should receive the thoughtful attention of the Board, and if possible, adjustments in salaries should be made so that teachers may receive a fair and just return for their labors and at the same time be able to improve themselves professionally and make some provision for support during the years of retirement.

PENSIONS

The policy of providing pensions for teachers is becoming very general in this country; thirty-four states and thirty-three separate municipalities have already adopted some system for retiring teachers.

These systems are based upon the principle not of reward or charity but of improvement of service, in that teachers freed from the risk of dependence due to age and disability would render more loyal, unselfish and continued service and also that teachers who have passed the period of usefulness would no longer encumber the profession. Every system of pensions should combine these qualities: definiteness in plan, security in fulfillment and adequacy in protection. The present pension system of Vermont is defective in that it cannot be put into effective operation for many years for lack of funds. The teachers of the State have repeatedly in their Conventions favored a pension system that might become operative at once. Conforming to their resolutions a bill is now before the State legislature, drawn in accordance with the recommendations of the report of the Carnegie Foundation on Pensions, approved by the best actuaries and capable of early and effective operation. The enactment of this measure would be a distinct addition to the school system of the State and may become a model for school pension systems in other states.

For the first time in the history of the City the voters will be asked at the annual meeting to vote upon the question—"Shall the Board of School Commissioners be authorized to grant a pension of $25 per month for the School Year beginning July 1, 1919 to a teacher in this city in accordance with Section No. 1218 of the General Laws of the State"—which provides for the pensioning of a teacher who has taught in the public schools for over thirty years. The teacher named in this article has taught in our public schools thirty-four years, during twenty years of which she acted as Principal of one of our grade buildings, and is now disqualified on account of sickness. The exemplary character, the long and faithful service and the extended and serious illness of this teacher should make a strong and favorable appeal to the voters of the city.

SPECIAL SCHOOLS

The School Board conducted a vocational school for conscripted men during eight weeks last Spring; the entire expense of this school was borne by the State. Continuation schools for High School and grade pupils were in session for four weeks during the summer vacation. The purpose of these schools is to make up deficiencies and place the pupils in regular standing in their classes. More than one hundred pupils availed themselves of this privilege and a large majority of those who regularly attended successfully worked off conditions and were passed to higher grades. The cost of conducting these schools is insignificant in comparison with the loss involved in so many pupils repeating a whole year's work; these schools are likewise of great value in holding in school pupils backward in studies and those necessarily irregular in attendance. A public Evening School for foreigners is being conducted this winter by the Educational Committee of the Rutland Woman's Club, the School Board providing rooms, light, heat and janitor's service. This school has been more largely patronized this season than in past years and is accomplishing much good. The great War has emphasized the necessity of our government's taking greater interest in acquainting the foreigner with our language, institutions and ideals. No agency can render a greater service in attaining these desirable results than public evening and continuation schools. As the prime object of these schools is to make intelligent and loyal American citizens, every industrial community of the size of Rutland should by law be compelled to maintain such schools, and since the results of these schools are national, as well as local, the State and Nation should contribute largely to their support.

HIGH SCHOOL

The High School has had a successful year altho the enrollment and attendance are slightly lower than one year ago. This decrease in numbers may be traced directly or indirectly to the War. The receipts from tuition and the number of towns patronizing the school were never so large as at present and with the return of peace we may expect a substantial increase in numbers. A course of industrial part-time shop and school work has been added to the curriculum. This course comes under provisions of the Smith-Hughes law and one half of the cost of instruction is borne by the State. It seems probable that in the near future still other courses, particularly in Household Economics and Agriculture, may be added and likewise be subsidized by the State.

It gives me pleasure to endorse the report of the Principal and to incorporate into this report some of his important suggestions, as follows:

"The past year has been very trying to school men everywhere. The higher cost of all things connected with school administration has made the problem of financing a school system very difficult, and has put the smaller school at a great disadvantage because the wealthier communities have been able to pay the increased wages that teachers have been compelled to ask for in order to meet their expenses. We have had our share in the loss of teachers, but perhaps have fared better in this regard than any other school in the state. By the employment of some teachers for part time we have been able to secure a higher grade of instruction than we could possibly have done if we had undertaken to meet the full salaries of these people."

"The policy of the school in one connection is to be highly commended. This is the attempt to have a considerable part of the instruction by men teachers; not that their work is necessarily any better than that of women teachers, or sometimes even as good, but young people of high school age need the influence of men in a great part of their work. I believe that we should aim to have our High School staff as nearly equal as possible in the number of men and the number of women. We have more men now on our staff than any other school in Vermont, and the results of this are quite evident in comparing the general tone of work in various schools. I hope that no effort will be spared to maintain or perhaps increase the number of men in our school as vacancies occur from time to time."

"It is too early as yet to estimate the failures of the school as compared with the two previous years, but all evidences at present would indicate something of a reduction in the number of failures over last year. The general tone of the work shows a quite decided improvement."

INDUSTRIAL COURSE

"The part time industrial course which the school board instituted at the beginning of this year is still in the experimental stage, and it is too early to make any very definite statement concerning it.

The twenty-two boys enrolled in the course are all interested in the work. The reports from the shops indicate that the shop-owners and foremen are well pleased with the work. In most cases the school work has been satisfactory. There is always a slight danger that boys may get the notion that their real education is to be had in the shop only, and that the school work is not vitally important. We have experienced something of this difficulty, but it has not yet become serious in many cases."

RECOMMENDATIONS

"1. Instruction in Agriculture."

"This school is the High School not only for the city of Rutland but for a large area of surrounding rural territory. We have had in the school during the past year students from over twenty different towns. A considerable number of students who are legal residents of Rutland should be classified as rural rather than city residents. If we are going to perform our best services for these surrounding towns and for these residents of the city whose natural inclination is toward the farm, it would seem advisable to me that we establish a course in agriculture in connection with the school."

"2. The working out of a definite salary schedule."

"Some plan whereby the teacher who has been loyal to the school and stuck by it through days of famine as well as days of plenty should not be penalized in matters of salary when new teachers are elected to the school. A maximum salary should be established. The teachers whose work is satisfactory enough so that they are retained at all, should be promoted regularly toward that salary. It is my judgment that at the time of the election of teachers an attempt should be made to adjust salaries so that they will be fair to all concerned, and as liberal as they can be made without injustice to the teachers of the elementary schools, and that when this salary has been decided the teacher should either accept it or reject it and that that should be the end of the matter."

"3. The continuation of the Industrial Course."

"An effort must be made to interest additional industries in the city particularly in this work if it is to be developed to the point where it will be of greatest service to the young men, to the industries, and to the city."

"4. An extension of our work in various fields covering particularly the work of pupils of different temperaments and needs requires considerably more space for the purpose of instruction than the old fashioned high school, and if we are to meet the complex demands that fall upon us we must begin to plan for larger accommodations for our students. When our method of articulation between the elementary school and the high school is properly readjusted and when we are offering the work that we must eventually offer to the young people of this community, we should have a high school enrollment of from seven hundred to eight hundred. I am confident that we can bring this about in the course of five or six years by proper management."

EDUCATIONAL TREND

If one compares the present program of studies in our High School with that of some dozen years ago one will be able to recognize the trend in secondary education.

Formerly emphasis was placed upon classical training; more than half of our high school pupils took Latin and a large number took Greek. The chief end sought in mathematics was ability to meet college requirements; oral reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic and grammar were not taught, because college credits were not given in these subjects; music, art, elocution, manual training, domestic science, industrial and vocational courses found no place on the program; the recitation was made prominent; the text-book was practically the entire equipment for the student and the school-room. Under such conditions the chief requirement of a high school building was to furnish the requisite number of recitation rooms with sufficient seating capacity.

Since that time the program of the school has been enriched; the building has been enlarged and an attempt made to modernize it, but as usually happens in the case of a building constructed by piecemeal through half a century it has been only partially successful.

The enrichment of the course of study, the swing from the recitation to the laboratory method of instruction, the increased enrollment, and the demand for more room in handling an up-to-date school, have taxed the capacity of the present building to an extent equal to that which existed before it was enlarged. Therefore, the problem of still further increasing accommodations for the high school will confront the school officials and the taxpayers of the city at no distant day.

Another problem closely related to the above is the necessity of bringing the elementary and high school grades into closer relation. A Junior High School would admirably meet this condition, at the same time eliminate our archaic ninth grade and save a whole year in the school life of the child. The chief obstacle in establishing at once such a school in Rutland is the lack of a suitable building. The solution of this problem may be in the erection in the near future of a modern senior high school building and in establishing a Junior High School in the present high school structure.

CONCLUSION

In closing this report I wish again to make hearty acknowledgment of the unfailing courtesy, good will and assistance so generously extended to me during the past year by all with whom I have been associated.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID B. LOCKE,
Superintendent of Schools.

Rutland, Vermont, February 15, 1919.

Auditors' Report

To the Honorable City Council:

We have verified the notes, bonds, deposit books and other securities belonging to the City in the hands of the City Treasurer, and Sinking Fund Commissioners, and find the same correct. We have also examined the accounts of the City Treasurer, City Clerk, Overseer of the Poor, Superintendent of Schools, and Sinking Fund Commissioners, and find that all moneys received by them have been duly accounted for, and they have proper vouchers for all moneys expended.

We also find that the records of disbursement as shown by the City Clerk agree with the entries shown on the Treasurer's book.

We would mention that we found the various books and records in all departments in good order, and vouchers for all disbursements were produced.

We have examined the tax books in the City Constable's hands and find that apparently he has paid into the treasury all moneys he has collected. The total amount of uncollected taxes is $4,986.00; of this amount $4,040.34 is for the years 1917-1918. We recommend that the old balances should either be collected, or abated if they are not collectible.

We suggest that it would be advisable to have all taxes collected and paid into the treasury within two years from the date they are given the Constable for collection.

JAKE HEYMAN,
ROBERT D. SMITH,
W. T. SIMONDS,
Auditors of the City of Rutland.
